

SELF-COMPASSION

Be kind to yourself. You are human.

Self-compassion means treating yourself with the same care and understanding that you would offer to someone you love.

1. SELF-KINDNESS

Be gentle with yourself.

Self-kindness is choosing to respond to your pain with warmth instead of criticism.

- ♥ Talk to yourself with care, not criticism
- ♥ Allow yourself to be imperfect
- ♥ Offer comfort when you're struggling

INSTEAD OF:

"I'm such a failure."

TRY:

"I'm having a hard moment. I'm still worthy of care."

2. SHARED HUMANITY

You are not alone.

Shared humanity means recognizing that struggle, pain, and imperfection are part of being human.

- ♥ Remember others feel this way too
- ♥ Let go of "Why me?"
- ♥ Feel connected instead of isolated

INSTEAD OF:

"This only happens to me."

TRY:

"Other people struggle like this too. I'm not alone in this."

3. MINDFULNESS

Notice, don't avoid or exaggerate.

Mindfulness is being aware of your thoughts and feelings without suppressing them or getting overwhelmed by them.

- ♥ Name what you feel: "This is sadness"
- ♥ Observe thoughts without believing all of them
- ♥ Stay present instead of spiraling

INSTEAD OF:

- Ignoring your feelings OR
- Getting consumed by them

TRY:

"I notice I'm feeling anxious right now."

FROM THIS...

- ✗ CRITICISM
- ✗ ISOLATION
- ✗ OVERWHELM
- ✗ SHAME

THEY WORK TOGETHER

helps you notice your pain

SELF-KINDNESS

helps you respond with care

SHARED HUMANITY

→ reminds you you're not alone

TO THIS...

- ✓ COMPASSION
- ✓ CONNECTION
- ✓ BALANCE
- ✓ ACCEPTANCE

A QUICK PRACTICE (1-2 MINUTES) ♥

1 PAUSE & NOTICE (MINDFULNESS)

"This is a moment of suffering."

2 NORMALIZE (SHARED HUMANITY)

"Struggle is part of being human."

3 BE KIND (SELF-KINDNESS)

"What do I need right now?"
(Kind words, a breath, a break, support)

REMEMBER

- You don't have to earn compassion.
- You don't have to be perfect to be worthy.
- Change happens faster with kindness than with shame.

You are enough. Just as you are. ♥

I am learning.
It's okay to take my time.

My feelings matter.

I can be my own safe place.

I choose compassion today.
